Links to uplifting webzones

Hey, wonderful things are happening.....

Many of the links on this web-page are out-of-date. You can often find the new page simply by searching for the page description with a search engine. If that fails try the wayback machine at www.archive.org You might just get lucky, but the Google cache is 'mysteriously' blank or half-blank whenever the truth has been taken out.

No insulting cattle-fodder commercials here, sit back... enjoy the best of virtuality - This page has plenty of visionary stuff plus sites by good people exposing the two-faced money grabbers and other elitist types.....

[DISCLAIMER - there are some sites here which I have listed as 'good' for the often unique facts they provide - I do not agree with ANY racist views which might be expressed on them - Tony] Controversial Goodlink!

See some of the hate-mail I recieved because of the link below!! I have been accused of being a fascist.

An unsavoury man from the extreme right David Irvine has, nevertheless, exposed a great deal about the Nazis through some exclusive digging in the Russian State archives. Particularly about Goebbels and the Nazi obsession with mind control. What he reveals about this most pernicious Nazi - and the links between his techniques and modern Western mind control are fascinating and valuable. [see quote immediately below] http://www.fpp.co.uk/books/Goebbels/Goebbels.pdf

Highly Recommended book: David Irving 'Goebbels. Mastermind of the Third Reich' ISBN 1 872197 13 2

"WRITING THIS BIOGRAPHY, I have lived in the evil shadow of Dr Joseph Goebbels for over six years. Four years into the ordeal, I had the immense good fortune to become the first— and so far only—person to open the complete microfiche record, made by the Nazis in 1944/1945, of Goebbels' entire private diaries and papers from 1923 to 1945; the Red Army had placed these in the secret Soviet state archives in Moscow. There they languished until the ninety or so original Agfa boxes containing the 1,600 glass plates, on which Goebbels had had the diaries filmed for safety, were discovered by the Goebbels Diaries expert Dr Elke Fröhlich in March 1992." DAVID IRVING LONDON 1994

From Chapter 38: Knocking out Front Teeth

"As the British expeditionary force fell back in disarray towards the beaches around Dunkirk, Goebbels' black transmitters were softening up the French public and doing all they could to generate amongst the poilus the feeling that they were already done for. He himself wrote many of the scripts for 'Concordia' and 'Humanité', including a religious service of cunningly pacifist flavour. His purpose was simple: to spread despondency and dismay among the French. This he did by reporting rumours that Paul Reynaud's regime was fleeing Paris; by urging all French patriots to withdraw their bank savings immediately lest the Nazis confiscated the banks; and by broadcasting meaningless code-phrases to a non-existent French un-derground; Hitler directed him to talk freely about this fictitious 'Fifth Column.'

His transmitters gave helpful advice to the French on surviving the cholera epidemic (there was none); and how to hoard scarce food supplies. No true Frenchman, they warned, should trust the perfidious English. He spread rumours of peace talks, then claimed a day later that Britain had torpedoed them. Gutterer and Raskin faked the diary of a British soldier describing his sexual exploits among the wives of Paris. Other stations spread word of appalling atrocities, designed to choke the French roads with panic-stricken refugees. He brought to bear the main transmitters of Radio Cologne, Leipzig, and Stuttgart, to beam these poisonous messages into enemy territory."

Clough Williams-Ellis built Portmeirion from 1925 to 1975 on his own private peninsula on the coast of Snowdonia in Wales. He wanted to show that 'the development of a naturally beautiful site need not lead to its defilement'. His lifelong concern was with Architecture, Landscape Design, the protection of Rural Wales and Conservation generally, and he strove at Portmeirion to give his ideas physical expression. He fought for Beauty - "that strange necessity". Portmeirion is owned by a Registered Charity called The Second Portmeirion Foundation. All the cottages in the village are let as part of the Portmeirion Hotel and the village also has several shops and restaurants and is surrounded by the Gwyllt sub-tropical gardens and woodlands and miles of sandy beaches.http://www.portmeirion-village.com/main.english.htm

SPUC was launched in 1967 to campaign against the Abortion Act. As the first "right to life" lobbying and educational organisation established anywhere in the world, the Society defends the human rights of the child in the womb. We also campaign against other threats to the right to live: especially euthanasia and human embryo experimentation. We promote the welfare of unborn children and expectant mothers, and we challenge the promotion of abortion as a means of population control - especially in China and the developing world. http://www.spuc.org.uk/

Search Engines:

Can you trust search engines? These are the so-called indexes of the world wide web - but corporates and other money rich information peddlars pay to have their sites sent up the index - altavista has recently started doing this for instance so have a good trawl for new search engines every couple of months - IE. there is no way you can entirely trust a search engine to be idealogically unbiased when it may be owned and run by a profit hungry corporation.

My page http://www.bilderberg.org/changes.htm appears way down the altavista listings even when a search is done on the title phrases and metatag phrases. Don't trust all search engines.

A good tip is to constantly hunt round for and use new search engines. Regularly try a narrow search for an obscure/controversial subject on several different search engines - you'll be able to experience for yourself how partial search engines like Yahoo are by doing this.
